This is a great paper and it has a concise abstract.

1. Introduction

This is where the content of your paper goes.

- Limit the main text (not counting references and appendices) to 12 PMLR-formatted pages, using this template.
- Include, either in the main text or the appendices, all details, proofs and derivations required to substantiate the results.
- Include in the main text enough details, including proof details, to convince the reviewers of the contribution, novelty and significance of the submissions.
- Use the `\documentclass[anon,12pt]colt2020` option during submission process – this automatically hides the author names listed under `\coltauthor`. Do not include author names in the remainder of the text, and to the extent possible, avoid directly identifying the authors. You should still include all relevant references, including your own, and any other relevant discussion, even if this might allow a reviewer to infer the author identities. Use `\documentclass[final,12pt]colt2020` only during camera-ready submission.

Acknowledgments

We thank a bunch of people.

Appendix A. My Proof of Theorem 1

This is a boring technical proof.

Appendix B. My Proof of Theorem 2

This is a complete version of a proof sketched in the main text.
